Biography

Serving the hair industry since 2009, Raniesha Moorman is a committed, innovative, zealous licensed cosmetologist who has established her career in the beauty industry. Raniesha Moorman has served in the salon and has traveled internationally with fashion designer, Clavon Leonard, as hair department head and has participated in New York Fashion Week for 3 years. Raniesha is conversant in the installation of lace wigs, creating and customizing lace front wigs, natural hair care, fantasy and high fashion hairstyling, cutting, and braiding. Raniesha continues her education to become a master in the areas of which she has become proficient. Although being a member of the Local 798 Union is a childhood dream, Raniesha has positioned herself to work diligently towards making this dream her reality.
