General Information:

- Nellis Overton has been a set/rigging Grip and Electrician (G+E), on-and-off for the past 10 years. His expertise is available for hire and willing to travel to help light your next feature, commercial, interview or whatever else you got.
- Nellis also owns and operates 'Darkwood Productions', founded by his late father, Mark Overton; a 30-year veteran of the film world. 'Darkwood Productions' is a two-ton, 14-foot film truck fully equipped with lights and grip equipment, that can be contracted out with Nellis's services and expertise as a Electrician and Grip, to light your features, commercials, music videos, short films, corporation gigs, interviews, etc. Equipment list available upon request.
- Nellis has started working with his father around 2008 when he was about 15 years old, so he had been exposed to the grip and lighting aspect of the film industry from an early age, which had helped him develop valuable on-set experience with a strong work ethic.
- Nellis is available for apprenticeship to be a Dolly Grip. Willing to take a reduced rate as a Dolly Grip on a shoot to learn the trade hands-on. Thank you for the opportunity.
